

Latest Updates on OSHA, CDC, and Infection Prevention & Control

OSHA mandates that employees in dental practices undergo annual safety training. This training covers general workplace safety, bloodborne pathogens, hazard communication, hazardous waste compliance, and any new recommendations related to infection control and prevention. This course will help participants review their current safety protocols, implement necessary updates, and fulfill regulatory training requirements..

Course Objectives – Upon completion, participants will be able to:

- Identify applicable OSHA regulations for their dental practice.
- Understand documentation and training requirements for OSHA compliance.
- Implement strategies to meet federal, state, and local safety standards.
- Evaluate their practice's adherence to CDC infection control guidelines.